Education at Dik Trom

We work with high expectations for every child.
Instruction is clear and well structured.
Children increasingly take ownership of their learning through student-teacher conferences and by setting their own learning goals.
Dalton education helps children plan, collaborate, make choices, reflect, and work independently.

Support and Care

Differentiation takes place in all classes: extra instruction where needed and enrichment where possible.
Support is available in the areas of:

- language, reading, and mathematics
- social-emotional development
- gifted and highly gifted education

If additional support is needed, this is always coordinated in consultation with parents and the child. We work closely with various external partners such as GGD Kennemerland and the cooperative network for inclusive education (Passend Onderwijs).

Lunch Break

The lunch break is organized by the school itself.
Children first eat calmly in the classroom and then play outside under supervision.
Weekly playground sports activities are offered by Sportservice.

Options:

- 25-session card: €60
- Annual pass lower grades (grades 1–4): €230

The parental contribution is voluntary and amounts to €30 per year.
This contribution is used to fund additional activities.
All children always participate, even if the contribution is not paid.

Communication with Parents

We use Parro for information and short messages.
Substantive conversations are not conducted via Parro, but in person or by telephone.
Reporting illness is only possible by telephone before 8:15 a.m.

Behaviour and School Rules

Mobile phones and smartwatches must be switched off at school and kept out of sight.
Treats should be simple, small, and agreed upon in advance with the teacher.
We are a Peaceful School: pupils learn to resolve conflicts together and respectfully.

Student Participation

Students from grade 5 onwards can participate in the student council.
Students learn to have a voice, think along, and take responsibility.
Students in grades 7 and 8 can be trained as peer mediators.

Development of the School

The school is growing and will start a fourth kindergarten class in 2027.
We are working towards becoming an Integrated Child Centre (IKC) in collaboration with childcare organization Partou. The team continues to develop professionally on an ongoing basis.
In 2026, the Education Inspectorate issued a positive evaluation of the quality of education and the school climate at Dik Trom.

In Conclusion

OBS Dik Trom is a school where:

- children feel safe and seen,
- learning is taken seriously,
